

New Oil Field Producer To East of Hamlin

Jaycee Banquet Draws 80 Guests

Installation Banquet of the newly organized Hamlin Junior Chamber of Commerce was held in the Elementary School Cafeteria Tuesday evening at 8:00.

Dr. Will C. House, pastor of the Hamlin First Methodist Church, gave the invocation.

Next came welcoming of the club to Hamlin by Jimmy Irwin, president of Lions Club, who also introduced guests.

Guests included: Jaycees of Sweetwater; Mrs. Lingo Brown, Mrs. George Etz and Ida Walker. Jaycees from Sweetwater included: Clifton Perkins, Lingo Brown, George Etz, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wimberly, Moe Wright, Roy Crommell, Cotton Phelps, Charlie Rythum and Bob Kenney.

Roby Jaycees were represented by E. B. Thompson.

Colorado City Jaycees were represented by Harold Bennett, Dr. Majors, Jack Tyler and Tom Eastman.

Abilene delegation included: Milton Shahan, Mack Manley, Hollis Manley, Dennis Manley, Buddy Page, Jimmy Brown, Mack Crowley.

Stamford was represented by Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lindsey, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Pruitt, Jerry Spire, and Bill Dodd.

Jim Brown, state secretary, was introduced by Lingo Brown who installed the following local officers: Wilson Bronnon, treasurer; Dr. Marshall Smith, secretary; C. W. Gold, vice president and Wesley Nail as president.

Presentation of the charter was given by George Etz, Sweetwater Jaycee president to Wesley Nail. Next followed an address by Harold Bennett, regional vice president who was introduced by Clifton Perkins.

Bennett's address pointed out the need in every town for a Jaycee organization who worked together "thru constructive action." Americanism was stressed in the community, nation and world.

After the banquet an informal meeting of all the clubs was held.

Scouts Select Four To Go To Pennsylvania

Conclusion of a meeting of Boy Scouts of Hamlin Monday night led to election of member Scouts as delegates to the Scout Jamboree. The conclave will be held at Valley Forge, Pennsylvania, in June.

Youths elected to represent the local troop were W. L. Fletcher, Jr., Robert Angel, Joe Don Hymer and Donald Johnson.

The quartette will be accompanied on the trip by adult supervisors.

Blinker Lights Come For Santa Fe Crossing

Control lights for traffic on Central Avenue for the Santa Fe crossing are being installed this week. The lights are being placed so as to guide motorists at the five approaches to the crossing at this point. Three standards have been so placed as to achieve this control.

Expense of the installation is being borne jointly by the state and the Santa Fe railroad.

Membership Drive Nets New Members

Membership committee of the Hamlin Chamber of Commerce is in the first week of its drive for new members. Committee is under the chairmanship of Edgar Duncan.

The following new members have been enlisted to the civic body:

J. H. Kee of Hamlin Automotive Store, Elmer J. Hawkins, M. D., of Hamlin Memorial Hospital; Walter Sanders, Sanders Jewelers; O. W. James, James Furniture Exchange; Howard Jenkins, wholesale meat dealer; Coltharp Service Station; C. E. Pierce, Hamlin Radio Station, W. F. Martin, Martin Ranch; D. D. Shelburne, T. E. Shelburne & Son, Contractors.

In addition to the new members listed above, the following had become members just before start of the campaign:

J. B. Terrell, Jr.; Robert Fowler, Bob's Barbecue; Wesley M. Nail, manager Hamlin Memorial Hospital.

Work of the committee is still incomplete and new members will be reported as they come in.

George Malouf is leading other members of the committee in recruiting of members.

18 Boys Go To Track Meet at Haskell

Hamlin's Pied Pipers will journey Saturday to the District Track Meet at Haskell.

There thirteen teams are to vie for district honors.

According to Coach Jesse Burditt, results show the meet to be comparatively keen.

Eighteen boys will make the trip and will be the usual track boys.

Missionary Calvary Baptists Revival Due

Revival meeting at the Hamlin Calvary Missionary Baptist Church starts Friday (today) according to a report made by church officials.

Elder C. W. Pate of CCoakeville will be the evangelist.

Prayer services will begin at 7:30 before the evening services at 8:00 p. m. All are cordially invited.

Baseball Nine Is Formed for Season

The fever that grips the country at this season of the year presented its first symptoms in Hamlin Monday night. A body of interested individuals met at the fire station to lay plans for baseball as an attraction in Hamlin this summer.

Known talent of the town will be supplemented by a group of experienced newcomers who have been added to Hamlin by the increase in oil activity.

It is believed that further talent will be developed as the training season progresses and in consideration of this a tryout meeting of candidates has been set for 3:00 p. m. Sunday at the ball park.

Result of the Monday night gathering was the election of Duck Weaver as playing manager of the local nine. Babe Britton was chosen as business manager and Bill Adair will function as groundskeeper on a paid basis.

Chuck Abbott, manager of the diamond aggregation in 1949, explained that press of other duties prohibited his acting in that capacity this year.

Those present were informed that a league is being formed which will include Knox City, Goree, Haskell, Stamford and other baseball strongholds and they are seeking Hamlin as a member of that league. Problem of entrance into this league was left to the discretion of the playing manager.

Equipment used in previous seasons is in good shape and is available to the new organization which will materially reduce the expense of participation this year.

A limbering up workout was staged Wednesday afternoon as a prelude of the Sunday get-together. Leaders have issued an invitation for all interested ball players to attend the Sunday meet.

Schedule of playing dates for the nine will be worked out to eliminate conflict with any soft ball exhibitions at the same park.

The present diamond is said to be in very good shape considering lack of care in the off season.

Rawls Tells Locals Of Dangers Ahead

Rotarians and Lions met jointly Thursday in Hamlin at the city park to hear Charles Rawls, senior national vice commander of the VFW. Estimated attendance was 150 club members and guests at the gathering.

Rawls was introduced by Julian Dixon, Abilene, state department commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Subject of Rawls message was efforts now being pushed to further organization of World Government throughout the universe and particularly in the United States.

Rawls denounced the movement for World Government as a deliberate effort to undermine the strength of the United States as the leading world power and reduce the nation to its suggested role with reference to its population. Under this suggestion the country would possess only seven per cent of the voting strength.

It was explained that although no publicity is offered on the activity for this movement it is the fifth largest spender in the United States in lobbying expenditures. Through undercover methods of operation he said, the average man has no knowledge of the scope of their operations.

He also stated that 22 out of the 48 states have already passed resolutions endorsing the movement and it is to combat this wholesale endorsement that he is devoting his time in acquainting the voters with the facts.

He informed his listeners that he did not accuse the directorate of the movement of being communistic but that a majority of them belonged to organizations that had communistic fronts.

VFW Elects Heads For Coming Year

Officers for the year were chosen by the Hamlin Veterans of Foreign Wars by ballot last week. A large candidate list was presented for choice of the members and final count installed C. W. Gold to succeed himself as post commander.

Other officers selected were Allen Ford as Senior Vice Commander, J. E. Stidham, Junior Vice Commander; Bill Harbert, Quartermaster; Tom Brady, Post Advocate; Johnnie Hester, Post Chaplain; Doc Neal, Trustee.

Club officers elected included John Hymer as Chairman of the Board of Directors an selected Paul Gately, Bud Forbus, Allen Ford and Bo Newland as directors.

Official personnel of the club are planning an extension of activities for the club in the year ahead.

SOPHISTICATED COTTON

Organdy has taken its place again as one of the season's most sophisticated evening fashions, according to the National Cotton Council. The 1949 Maid of Cotton, Sue Howell, of Bakersfield, Calif., selected this delicate organdy formal by McCall for her famous cotton wardrobe. The fabric is a delicate shadow organdy by Fibre in angel blue.

Locals To Abilene For Band Clinic

Pied Piper Band will make its first out of town public appearance next Monday on the campus of Abilene Christian College, Abilene.

Occasion is an annual clinic sponsored by the A. C. C. Wildcat Band, under the direction of Robert E. Holland.

The local band will play for criticism by a clinic director, and then be rehearsed for about a hour by him. Members will then attend instrumental classes under leadership of well-known teachers of the area.

Highlights of the day's activities will be a council by the Iraan High School Band in the morning, a marching demonstration by the Waushia, Oklahoma High School Band in the afternoon and a concert in the evening by the A. C. C. Wildcat Band.

Hamlin Second In Abilene Practice Meet

Hamlin's Pied Pipers engaged in a five-way practice track meet at Abilene Wednesday and gained second place in points totalling.

Abilene, showing overwhelming strength in field events, overshadowed the rest of the field, composed of Hamlin, Anson, Stamford and Albany.

Asa Goodgame was high point man with 10.6 points. He took first position in the hurdle events in which he was clocked in exceptionally fast time.

True to early season form, the Pied Pipers exhibited strength in the half-mile, in which W. T. Stapler and John Holland finished one-two. Stapler's time was 2:15. Donald Green placed second in the quarter-mile and the Hamlin quartette took third place in the mile relay.

Womanless Wedding Postponed By Lions

Unexpected difficulties have developed in the staging of the second performance of the Womanless Wedding by the Lions Club of Hamlin.

Decision to meet in joint session with the Rotary Club on Thursday led to cancellation of the regular Tuesday meeting and did not permit formulation of plans for the new entertainment.

In consideration of this fact, and rather than present an attraction that would be a disappointment, the event has been indefinitely postponed.

William Lloyd Garrison was the famous abolitionist editor of The Liberator.

Abilene Eagles Lace Pied Pipers

After a hard fought game here the Hamlin Pied Pipers got the little end of a 13-10 win played Monday afternoon against Abilene Eagles.

Abilene's Eagles were behind 5-1 going into the fourth inning of the seven inning tussle, when several hits were made giving the Eagles a 8-5 lead.

Hamlin brought in two in the sixth inning and three in the seventh.

The game was played in a heavy, windy dust storm.

Dean opened the scoring for the Pipers with a homer in the first with a man on. Stapler increased the lead in the third with a two-count homer.

Dean opened the game on the mound for Hamlin, holding the Eagles to one hit the first three innings. Goodgame took over in the fifth and left-handed the rest of the game. Both teams made several costly errors.

April 21 Throckmorton here

April 28 Anson here

The district this year is still divided in two parts 6-A east and 6-A west. Throckmorton, Anson and Hamlin make up 6-A east. Rotan, Colorado City, Snyder and Roby make up 6-A west.

Work Progresses On Crow Brothers Bldg.

The extension to the building to house the Crow Brothers Grocery is progressing at a greater rate than anticipated.

Roof structure has been erected and the structure is assuming a definite shape to indicate the extent of the operators' plans. After completion of the addition, the interior will be completely modernized, according to information from the proprietors.

Fire Drill Staged By High School Students

Fire Marshal Weldon Hudson and Jake Lawson made a routine examination of the Hamlin high school buildings Monday.

While they were in the building a fire drill was conducted and officials of the school expressed themselves as well pleased with the orderliness of the impromptu drill.

All exits from the buildings were checked during the drill.

Elementary P-T-A To Postpone Meeting

Regular meeting of the Elementary Parent Teachers Association has been postponed until April 13 due to six weeks exams and the Easter holidays a report to The Herald stated.

At the last meeting the P-TA voted to use their funds to beautify the ground at the Elementary School.

Mrs. O. T. Kelly, president, stated this as the second project of the year. The first, as all recall, was the immunization program.

School Glee Club To Present Cantata

Hamlin's High School Glee Club will present an Easter Cantata, "The Resurrection Morn" by Lawrence Keating next Thursday, April 6 at the High School Auditorium.

Featured soloists will be Joy Maynard, soprano and Rose Brady, alto, with narration by Patsy Parker.

Program is under the direction of Walter P. Chalcraft, local school music director.

New Company Here Brings Large Crew

Seaboard Oil Company has let contract to Warren & Bradshaw for drilling of wells on the W. F. Martin lease in Section 4 and rig is being moved in today for this development.

Arrival of the Warren & Bradshaw interests in Hamlin has produced an acute housing problem inasmuch as the company employs three five-man drilling crews in the operation of their rig. Majority of the men assigned to the crew have families and it is estimated that forty-five additional people will have to be housed.

The drilling contractors are major operators in West Texas.

The Martin location is to be a wildcat venture, nearest production to which is the Pardue field. Extensive exploration of the area is anticipated.

Mrs. E. M. Wilson, secretary of the chamber of commerce, has asked for cooperation from Hamlin in providing housing for this group.

Country Club Drive Is Nearing Goal

Although principals in the formation of the new country club have been handicapped by the press of other duties in their efforts to recruit new members to fulfill their program, progress has been satisfactory in the solicitation.

It is felt that there are a large number of potential members of the club which the committee has been unable to contact and the group feels that some offense may be taken at the apparent oversight. Approach of the quota set leads them to urge that interested citizens call for information regarding the plans for the club.

Earl Smith and Teddie Russell have volunteered to explain details of the membership plan at the F&M National Bank.

Delma Shelburne is preparing sketches of the rustic-type club house which is projected for the club and estimates will be asked on the construction.

The club membership feels that success of the campaign for stock subscriptions is assured and they are very anxious not to exclude any potential member from an opportunity to join.

The project will provide a club house over looking the lake and grass greens are to be built as an improvement to the golf course.

Amsterdam is the center of the world's diamond trade.

Culbertson Well Has Record Flow

Plug was drilled with spudder rig on the Joe L. Culbertson No. 2 oil well, five and one-half miles east of Hamlin, Wednesday evening and well was allowed to flow in pits for a 30-minute potential test.

Official gauge for the 30-minute period was slightly over 40 barrels of oil, which would rate the well at 80 barrels hourly.

This would be record production from the Swastika pay and local experts anticipate a slight decrease in production after the well settles down.

A large group of citizens of Hamlin had been on hand to witness first flow of oil from the well and Culbertson was on hand with his friends. It appeared that the well would not respond for several hours and the landowner and many of his friends had gone home when the well responded. It was necessary to send after Culbertson so he could witness the flow of oil into the pits.

Result of completion of the well is assurance that Hamlin has a new oil field and interest is just as high in the drilling of the No. 3 Culbertson as that shown in the discovery well. This well is reported to have reached a depth of 1640 feet Wednesday evening.

Little or no unusual activity has resulted from the new discovery due to the fact that all surrounding acreage is already under lease.

Culbertson has large holdings in the area and his friends are rejoicing with him in the developments.

Band Unit Parades To Show Uniforms

Hamlin high school's band, resplendent in their new green and white uniforms, paraded the business section of the town Wednesday at noon.

The group had performed at the elementary school and passed in review before the townfolk as a waystop on their way back to the high school building.

The band is under the direction of Walter Chalcraft and made a very favorable impression with their music as well as their uniforms.

Agent Tells How To Care For Pecan Trees In Texas

January 20 to February 20 is State Pecan Month in Texas. In keeping with the theme it would be well to review on the care of pecan trees, stated Bill Lehman, Jones County Agent.

The pecan tree which you set out now can become a monument to year in the year 2000. In the interim, it will be a thing of beauty and reward you with a fine crop of nuts. That is, if it is properly cared for, especially during the first year after transplanting. The pecan is very slow to develop new roots after transplanting. It is very helpful to the newly transplanted tree if the size of the top is reduced in proportion to the loss sustained by the root system in transplanting. On an average this will mean removing about one-third of the top.

During the first summer, adequate moisture is vital. If you live in a dry area or if the season is dry, the ground around each tree should be thoroughly soaked to the full depth of the root system once every two weeks. The cost of watering trees during the first year is relatively small and is one of the most profitable investments you can make to insure a good start for your tree.

Newly transplanted pecan trees that are making very little growth are likely to sunscald at the ground line when exposed to the sun. This is especially true when such trees are watered during the heat of the day. To avoid this possibility, the wet ground should be covered with dry soil or straw after the water has soaked in. A straw mulch in the basin around the tree is very helpful during the first year after transplanting, serving both to conserve moisture and keep the soil cool. Sunscald can also be prevented by loosely wrapping the lower part of the trunk of the tree with burlap or paper soon after transplanting. If the bodies of young trees are not wrapped at the time of planting, it is important that all twigs and leaves be allowed to grow on the entire length of the body during the first year.

Training or heading the young tree is most important. Young trees should be allowed to develop temporary branches to a height of two to three feet from the ground. These temporary branches which are allowed to develop during the first two or three years should be removed to give the tree a permanent head of branches at a height of six or eight feet.

The framework of a pecan tree must be able to withstand great strains brought about by heavy crops of nuts and by wind. The type in which four to six or more main branches are arranged in spirals about the central leader is considered best. There should be from 12 to 18 inches between the framework branches in the alternation around the main body of the tree. Eliminate narrow crotches and weak forks which may split later.

Don't let weeds and grass take the little pecan tree. Remember, you are growing a tree not only for yourself, but for posterity, concludes the agent.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—My husband, a World War I veteran, gets a pension and does not give me enough money to pay doctor bills. Could I get a part of his pension?
 A—Pension may be apportioned only where the veteran and his wife are not living together.

If you are living together, you may not be granted a part of his pension.

Q—Is it important for me to show that I have had experience in the line of business in which I am an applicant for a GI business loan?
 A—It is important to show such experience because the law explicitly provides: "That ability and experience of the veteran, and the conditions under which he proposes to pursue such business or occupation are such, that there is a reasonable likelihood he will be successful."

Q—I was discharged from the Army four years ago and now wish to enter a course of embalming. What school may I attend and get the benefits as provided by the GI Bill?

A—You may enroll in any school of embalming approved by the State in which the school is located, provided it is willing to accept you.

THE $5 COST OF SECURITY

Security is a legitimate and admirable goal of the American people. The question is: How may we safely obtain it—to the degree desired by everybody? We've progressed far beyond the age when most people lived on farms and had no direct dependency on business and industry, salaries or wages—an age in which the soil directly supported about 80 per cent of our population. In these early days you could swap a dozen eggs for two tallow candles, a calf for a pair of bench-made shoes, and could pay the doctor with a peck of potatoes and a bushel of corn.

Now, 80 per cent of our people live in towns and cities. Most of them are directly dependent for their livelihood and security on salaries and wages from employers. The spectre of sickness, accident, unemployment and old age while not pronounced, is constant. The thrifty and industrious have reacted to this subconscious anxiety by strict management of their incomes. But thrift, alas, seems to be a waning virtue. And that fact, as well as the need for security, is a part of the big problem.

Cure For All Ills

Political medicine men, parrot the Socialists' line, have come forward with glittering promises of security for everybody—at hardly any cost at all to anybody. It is reminiscent of the long-ago itinerant pitchman who hawked his Tonic as a cure for any and all ills—and it usually contained 80 per cent alcohol. The tonic gave temporary exhilaration but there was always a hangover. People can be too trusting. Millions have fallen for the hawking of the political medicine men. The economics of their rosy security programs are unsound. The hangover would be disastrous.

We're all anxious, of course, to see the living standard and general welfare improved. It's the federal government's duty, under the Constitution, to promote the general welfare. But many of the economic theories advocated by the security planners in Washington would wreck the general welfare—not promote it.

SSSSSSSSSS

We should be sure that we ourselves, and then our elected representatives and public officials, recognize this fact. And we must all get a clear understanding of what the social security now being offered actually costs. As I write this column I have before me some reliable statistics on the cost of just one phase of social security—pensions. These figures would stagger even a federal government accountant.

To properly finance the present "yard stick" 100 a month pension for the 60,000,000 wage and salary earners in America (and when one gets it, all ultimately will demand it) requires the setting up of a reserve fund of $727,000,000,000. That's three times the annual national income, about three times the present national debt and 17 times the present terrifically high federal budget. That much money in reserve funds couldn't possibly be taken from our national economy; it's too much to be invested by government, or private finance, or both. In fact, all the present marketable securities of the government plus the total reserves of all the life insurance companies in the country would make only about one-third of the necessary reserve fund.

Caution Needed

And the 60,000,000 wage and salary earners do not, of course, include the self-employed and the tens of thousands of others in the professions. If any all-embracing plan were adopted it would have to cover all eligibles, boosting the ultimately required reserve fund to nearly $1,000,000,000,000. And to be actually sound (or safe) the reserve fund to take care of pensions for all employed people would be the same amount whether it be administered by the federal government, or government-industry, or left entirely in

Southeast Asia Supplies Needs Of World That Rides On Rubber

NATURAL RUBBER COMES FROM HERE

Over 90% of all the rubber grown in the world comes from billions of rubber trees in Southeast Asia. On rubber depends modern travel and communication—including automobiles, trucks, planes, telephones and radios.

Recent events have turned the spotlight on Southeast Asia, stronghold of democracy in the East and the world's chief source of a raw material on which modern civilization depends—natural rubber.

A scant 70 years ago not a single rubber tree grew in this entire area, nearly as large as Europe. Today there are millions of acres of neat rows of high-yielding rubber trees which supply nearly all world needs for this elastic material. The United States alone used over 600,000 tons of it in 1949.

In addition to the large plantations or "estates," which are financed and managed by European and American companies, there are over 400,000 small one-family rubber farms in Malaya alone which supply a "cash crop" for native Malays, Chinese, and Indian growers.

A booklet called "Natural Rubber and You" has recently been published by the Natural Rubber Bureau, Dept. N200, 1631 K St., N.W., Washington 6, D.C. It shows in photographs how natural rubber is grown in Southeast Asia. You can obtain a free copy by writing the Bureau.

DANGER: RUST SPOTS!

For good and dented old milk cans, such as the one to which Batter is pointing above, are breeders of dangerous rust spots which affect the premium quality of milk and cream. Such old milk cans should be replaced promptly to protect the dairy farmer against down-grading or rejection at the milk station. Strong, new cans similar to those shown in the background above are again in good supply and are essential to good dairy operations, inspectors say.

Use of Electricity To Be Measured in Farm Census, Too

Hamlin area farms and ranches have put electricity to use in a big way—just how much will soon be revealed.

Information about use of electricity and other facilities on the farm will be collected in the 1950 census of agriculture which will be taken in April by the Bureau of the Census as a part of the seventeenth decennial census of the United States.

Farmers of Jones County and in all parts of the nation will be asked to report whether their farms have electricity. If the farm is served by a power line, farmers are asked to give the amount of their last month's bill for electricity. They also will report on home lighting plants. Farmers will be asked if they have electrical water pumps, electric water heaters, home freezers, electric washing machines, electric brooders or electric feed grinders.

Nearly 2,800,000 farms in the nation reported electricity in the dwelling according to the 1945 census of agriculture. This was an increase of three-quarters of a million over the 1940 census when 2,022,316 farm operators reported electricity in their dwellings. Of these 179,067 reported home electric plants in 1940.

Dr. Beulah Gould Passes at Stamford

Dr. Beulah Gould, 56, prominent Stamford chiropractor and civic leader, died at her home shortly before 8:30 a. m. Sunday March 19 after an illness of several months.

Her death came at the close of a family reunion.

Funeral rites were held at 2:00 p. m. Monday at the Central Christian Church with Dr. Ben Parker of San Antonio officiating. He was assisted by the pastor, Rev. M. C. Turpin.

Burial was in the Highland Cemetery under direction of Kinney-Corley Funeral Home of Stamford.

She was born Beulah Elliott, January 11, 1894, at Proctor and taught school there and in Weinert before she married Dr. Q. D. Gould in 1916. They moved to New Mexico and lived there for about two years.

Returning to Texas, the couple entered the Texas Chiropractor College in San Antonio, graduating in 1922. After graduation, they moved to Stamford where they established the Gould Chiropractic Clinic in 1922.

Dr. Beulah Gould continued to operate the clinic after the death of her husband on August 7, 1948. Failing health this year prompted her to discontinue the clinic.

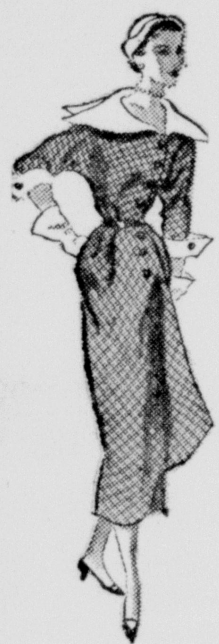

Both Dr. Gould and her husband were outstanding civic leaders and often helped students who needed financial aid. She directed a weekly interdenominational Bible class in her home.

She was an active member of the Central Christian Church and honorary president of the Dale Carnegie Club at Stamford.

Survivors include a son, Dr. Q. Don Gould of Hamlin; two grandchildren, Brenda and Gloria Gould; two brothers, M. C. Elliott of Dallas and J. B. 1. Driven 5 Years in 10 Weeks! For 70 days, six brand-new cars raced over the broiling Mexican-border desert at 60 m.p.h. . . . putting amazing new Conoco Super Motor Oil to one of the most punishing tests ever devised. After 50,000 miles of continuous driving, engines showed no wear of any consequence . . . in fact, an average of less than one one-thousandth of an inch on cylinders and crankshafts. Startling proof—factory finishing marks were still visible on piston rings!

2. New-Car Mileage! This rugged road test—equal to 5 years' normal mileage—proved that Conoco Super Motor Oil, with proper crankcase drains and regular care, can keep your new car new! Gasoline mileage for the last 5,000 miles of the test-run was as good as for the first 5,000 miles . . . actually there was an average difference for the fleet of only 4/100 of a mile per gallon!

3. New-Car Power! Quicker Starts! Yes—Conoco Super Motor Oil's extra protection keeps that factory flash . . . that showroom smoothness . . . year after year! Conoco Super Motor Oil OIL-PLATES metal surfaces to make your engine last longer, perform better, use less gasoline and oil! SHORT STORY

Just a Soffie

By LILLIAN MITCHELL

MILLY Kenyon pulled her last year's hat closer over her right eye and pushed ahead through the rain. Milly was old enough to know that wet feet would give her a red nose and a cold in her head and also that a hat worn in the rain never looks like much in its later life.

3 Minute Fiction

"There's Fran Kord and there's Daisy Ledoyt. They've both bought stories from me. Both of 'em. Fran Kord, good old scout! Many's the time her checks have come just in the nick of time to replenish the empty larder."

Milly peered near-sightedly at the street sign and turned the corner. The switchboard girl dressed in tomorrow's frock smiled at her brilliantly. Yes, Miss Kord was in. Yes. The name? Yes, just a moment, please. Yes, if you will go in, Miss Kenyon. And Milly was standing abashedly in a swanky inner office glittering with chromium and glass.

Fran Kord looked up. She almost snuffed at the newcomer.

"Hmph, so you're Milly Kenyon, eh? Glad to meet you."

"SIT DOWN. I hope you aren't bringing me any hard luck tale. Please-for sympathy stuff. I've had three writers in here today begging me to buy a story because two kids are dependent on selling a story or Junior has to have a tonsil operation or the grocer refuses further credit. I hope you're not going to be Number Four."

"Oh, I'm not," Milly said swiftly.

"Good!" cut in Fran Kord. "I used to be a soffie and fall flat-ter's a banana skin for that sympathy plea but not now. No, sir, I was left a widow myself with three youngsters to raise and I sure was a soffie after they gave me this editorial job. But papers aren't run for charity."

"Of course not," said Milly warmly. "I stopped in to—"

"Not that I ever bought a poor story, you understand," Fran Kord hastened to say. "I was spending the paper's money and I never forgot that fact. But when there are fifty good stories for every one we purchase, I bought because of my big heart time and time again."

"Yes, it's the head has to rule in business. Not the heart," Fran remarked, her eyes on the soft globe of silver light above Milly's head.

"Well, I mustn't keep you. I know you're busy," said Milly rising. "I just stopped in to ask you—"

"Glad you stopped, Miss Kenyon."

"Not that I ever bought a poor story, you understand," Fran Kord hastened to say.

I'm always glad to meet the writers. Fran Kord dropped her eyes almost immediately to her tablet of paper upon which she had been writing when Mildred entered.

MILLY looked in at the coffee shop but resolutely continued along the corridor to the telegraph office. There she wrote a telegram to Daisy Ledoyt, Editor, Garden and Palace Magazine:

"As winner of the $20,000 prize for a novel on the American home, I am asked to choose manager of bureau to consult sympathetically with promising writers who fail to make the grade. Salary twice your present salary. Wire me if I may present your name."

"I kind of favored Fran Kord, somehow," Milly said to herself as she went back towards the coffee shop. "Both editors have been wonderful to me but she is cold as ice."

"No sympathy whatever. And writers who don't make the grade need sympathy and a lot of it."

Fran Kord relaxed at her desk. "Hettie," she called sharply to her secretary. "Hettie, send upstairs and have them put through a check for—lemme see—there's the card story and this one—and this one—make the check for four stories, Hettie. Bring the check down yourself and here's pennies. Put a special delivery stamp on it for Mildred Kenyon. Poor old gal—she's certainly down on her luck, if ever a writer was! Broken shoes and that hat! Well, just call me a soffie."

SS Stresses Need For Correct Listing

"No one likes to lose money, and yet when a worker fails to show his employer his social security card he may lose thousands of dollars," stated Ralph T. Fisher, manager of the Abilene social security field office to The Herald early this week.

"You see, the reporting by the employer of the worker's correct name and number, exactly as shown on his card, is the key to the worker's wage account in the records of the Social Security Administration," Fisher said.

The importance of this wage account is apparent when a worker realizes that the benefits he can expect when he stops work at 65 or later, or the benefits that might be paid his family in case he dies, are based on the wages to his credit in his social security account. Then the account is incomplete, it may mean a difference in the amount of the benefit or it may mean that no benefits can be paid.

Many workers make it a point to check their social security account periodically, and the Social Security Administration recommends that this be done at least every four years. A special post card is available which any worker may use to request a statement of his account. The representatives from the Abilene social security office who will be in Stamford Thursday, March 23, at 3:00 p. m. at the post office will be glad to furnish these post cards to anyone who wishes one, as well as answer any inquiries about the insurance program.

Wildlife Program Needs Strength Director States

Now Texas is bartering with other states to obtain needed wildlife reinforcements is described in a March issue of The Texas Game and Fish, departmental magazine, received by The Herald.

W. C. Glazener, wildlife restoration director, writes that Texas is now working on an exchange program "designed to improve quail hunting and to produce more of certain valuable fur bearing animals."

"After 10 years of extensive deer trapping and transplanting in Texas," Glazener's article says, "The pressing need for deer stock on high quality ranges began to decline. In the same period, more active and positive quail management became increasingly urgent. Along with that situation, there was a growing interest in beaver as a water conserving instrument and fresh water muskrats as a source of cash income."

The Wildlife Restoration Director goes on to describe how a shrub like perennial called dicolor lespedeza was planted in strips and hedges and found to be useful in southern states to attract and hold quail. To develop strains adapted to Texas conditions, Game Department biologists have been working on plant selection and experimental planting of this species. Material for this vital work was obtained from Georgia and Florida in a trade involving Texas white-tailed deer.

The Glazener article continued: "Louisiana, in the meantime, became interested in bolstering its declining deer population by stocking Texas deer on selected refuge areas. As exchange items they offered surplus muskrat and beaver from soil and vegetable types similar to and relatively near inland reek marshes scattered over East Texas. Our access to the beaver stock was important because surplus West Texas beaver were not numerous enough to fill restocking needs in that part of the state, following drought years when water conservation became a recognized necessity on many stock ranches. At the same time, several East Texas landowners were soliciting fresh water muskrat stock not available." He concludes that mutual advantages in the bartering are obvious.

A brief business session was conducted and Mrs. Ned White gave the program.

Punch and frosted cake were served to the following: Mrs. J. H. Hudson, Mrs. W. B. Cotten, Mrs. Bill Harbert, Mrs. Ned White, Mrs. Brad Roland, Mrs. Raymond Fouquia, Mrs. Dean Witt and the hostess Mrs. V. V. Anderson.

Hundreds Tell Bob Wills Of Hadacol's Numerous Blessings

Bob Wills Hears About HADACOL'S Blessings

Hundreds of folks, who are benefiting every day from taking HADACOL meet at the Trianon Building in Oklahoma City where Bob Wills, famous band leader, and his Texas Playboys broadcast each noon for HADACOL.

"It looks like all my fans are getting wonderful benefits from HADACOL," said Wills. "It is a real pleasure to broadcast for HADACOL because the folks taking HADACOL are so enthusiastic that I feel like I am performing a real service for mankind."

Hundreds have told Wills of the blessed benefits of HADACOL and the following statement by Miss Betty Lou Lobb, 720 College St., Bethany, a well known singer, is a good example.

"I was tired, run down and lost my appetite. I suffered with gastric disturbances. I had tried almost everything but it didn't seem to help me. I had heard about the wonderful results HADACOL had been bringing to so many of my friends. Soon after taking HADACOL I was feeling much better, had no gastric disturbances and had a wonderful appetite. I am no longer nervous. I am sure that HADACOL has helped me a great deal and I recommend it to my friends."

Miss Lobb suffered with a deficiency of B Vitamins and important Minerals which HADACOL contains.

A lack of only a small amount of the B Vitamins and certain Minerals will cause digestive disturbances. . . . Your food will not agree with you. . . . You will suffer from heartburns, gas pains, and your food will sour on your stomach, and you will not be able to eat the things you like for fear of being in misery afterwards. Many people also suffer from constipation. And while these symptoms may be the result of other causes, they are surely and certainly the symptoms and signs of the lack of the B Vitamins and Minerals which HADACOL contains. And if you suffer from such a disorder, there is no known cure except the administration of the Vitamins and the Minerals which your system lacks. HADACOL contains not only one, but 5 of the B Vitamins. HADACOL contains not only one, but 4 of the necessary Minerals. It comes to you in liquid form, easily assimilated in the blood stream so that it can go to work right away. It is easy to understand, therefore, why countless thousands have already been benefited by this amazing tonic, HADACOL.

So, it matters not who you are . . . it matters not where you live . . . or if you have tried all the medicines under the sun, give this wonderful preparation a trial. Don't go on suffering. Don't continue to lead a miserable life. Many persons who have suffered and waited for 10 to 20 years or even longer, are able now to live happy, comfortable lives again because HADACOL supplied the Vitamins and Minerals which their systems needed. Be fair to yourself. Give HADACOL a trial. Demand the genuine HADACOL. Accept no substitutes.

CONTACT MAN

(A Short Story)
By RICHARD HILL WILKINSON

THIS WAS A JOB that Jerry hated, even though it involved getting a free dinner at the Plaza. Heretofore the Plaza had been a mystic and glittering part of another world, frequented by people whose incomes were more per week than his was per year.

At first when Old Man Harrington assigned him to the task of conferring with George Stanton once a month, Jerry had been thrilled. George was sales manager for the Harrington Rubber works. He earned $15,000 a year only noticed when you made some inconsequential error in reckoning, then they came down on you like a ton of brick. And you had to take it, act humble and apologetic, because you were afraid of losing your job. George Stanton with $15,000 per annum and money in the bank had acquired an air of confidence. He had a way of talking that inspired confidence in others. A good income did that to a man. No one ever came down on George like a ton of brick.

"Well, Jerry, how have things been going at the factory this month?" George was saying. And Jerry felt like telling him everything was lousy and that old man Harrington ought to be shot for paying experienced help so little. But he didn't. Instead he gave George a detailed account of all that had happened. He was afraid that George might tell old man Harrington if he didn't.

"I'm leaving for Chicago this afternoon," George said. He grinned. "Better take the rest of the day off and shoot some golf. The old man thinks you're with me, and he'll never know."

Jerry nodded and returned the grin. He shook hands with George and they parted. The grin left Jerry's face. "Shoot some golf!" he said to himself bitterly. "That's a laugh. It takes money to shoot some golf."

He did consider attending a movie, but the idea of it provoked a sense of guilt, and instead he boarded a car and went back to the factory. He'd been in his office 10 minutes when Old Man Harrington sent for him.

"I just had a phone call from Stanton," Harrington said. "He said you might be shooting golf this afternoon."

Jerry colored and boiled inside, thinking how he'd like to punch George Stanton's nose. Old Man Harrington continued:

"Jerry, that was a test. I put and had an expense account. On the first of every month he visited the main plant, and it was Jerry's job to spend the day with him, answer questions, and appraise him of any new policies that might have been adopted by the company. Jerry was assistant superintendent of the finishing department and earned $4,500 a year.

He had liked the job at first because George Stanton always took him to the Plaza to dinner and talked to him as though he were an equal. That was the mockery of it: George treating him like an equal

Sen. LeBlanc Continues Rationing of Hadacol

The continued increasing demand for HADACOL, one of the truly great medical discoveries given to the world by Senator Dudley J. LeBlanc, has made it necessary to decrease the ration allowance on HADACOL from six bottles to two bottles.

"We placed the limit at two bottles to a customer only after trying every other alternative," said Senator LeBlanc. "The demand for HADACOL has increased 100 per cent in the past year as more and more people have learned the blessings of its five B Vitamins and four important Minerals. Despite our new $250,000 plant equipped with the most modern machinery and our fleet of 30 great trucks to speed delivery, we just cannot keep up with the demand.

"We placed a ration limit of six bottles to the customer several weeks ago but still cannot catch up with production. Our 300 employees are working shifts around the clock but one bottleneck after another comes up. We expect to lick them all but meanwhile we are asking our customers to have patience and accept no inferior substitutes.

"For instance, when I created HADACOL I read every available authoritative medical and drug book in order to use the very finest ingredients regardless of cost. For instance, I read on page 234, U. S. Dispensary, 23rd edition, that 'Theoretically Calcium Glycerophosphate should for many purposes be superior to most other calcium salts because it represents both calcium and phosphoric acid in a soluble combination.'

"Little did I realize when I made Calcium Glycerophosphate a part of the new famous HADACOL formula that in time the demand for this great medical discovery—HADACOL—would be so great that we would use up the entire available supply in the United States of this product. But that is exactly what we have done and great plants throughout the nation are now working to increase their facilities to expand production of this essential ingredient which blends with other expensive products to help so many million suffering people in distress."

Yes, in HADACOL Senator LeBlanc envisioned the medicine that would bring blessings to folks of all ages, and in perfecting this formula he worked in his own small laboratory, sometimes 18 to 20 hours a day. Perhaps others could have placed the same ingredients in a medicine, but it remained for him to develop a formula which contains the most expensive ingredients of their kind. For instance, he uses Vitamin B-6 which costs at the factory $550 a kilogram, which is less than half a gallon.
